

Little Hats, Big Imagination

Have you ever put on a hat and instantly felt like a different person? Little boys become cowboys with just a hat, apprentices become mighty wizards by donning a pointy cap and a sparkling tiara makes any little girl a princess. Collectors Club members have come to expect miniatures, so when four of our friends stopped by, we asked them to check out our new Miniature Hat Collection, available seasonally throughout the year. Come see how much fun they had.

Warning, Miniature Spring Bonnet Basket, Miniature Uncle Sam's Hat Basket, Miniature Witch's Hat Basket and Miniature Top Hat Basket are not toys and are not intended for play by children of any age. Keep out of reach of children. May cause a choking hazard.

Miniature Spring Bonnet Basket

Harley thinks this tiny hat basket was made with the same sunshine kisses as a garden flower. The handcrafted ceramic base is wide like her own spring bonnet, and the intricate weaving lets just a little sunlight through. Available April 1–30, 2013.

Miniature Uncle Sam's Hat Basket

Silas can't remember which of his uncles is Uncle Sam, but he loves his hats! The bigger one he hopes to grow into someday—the other, he hopes to never outgrow. Mom says it's not a toy, but a small version of the Uncle Sam's Hat Basket from just a few years ago. Look for this basket in May, 2013. Now to find something to hide inside... maybe a frog?

Miniature Witch's Hat Basket

Kaylianna loves to play dress-up, and today she's a witch with a big black hat! But in her hand is a tiny little witch hat that's so small, it must be under a spell. Patterned after the 2011 Witch's Hat Basket, this adorable tiny hat has Kaylianna convinced even fairies like to dress up as witches sometimes. Get yours in August, 2013!

Miniature Top Hat Basket

Little Jalen knows the song about the snowman that wears this hat. It's his very favorite Christmas song! The snow is all gone, but the magic is still in this little top hat—it's a 2010 Top Hat Basket all melted down small! Look for it in your November & December 2013 Flyer.
